SPLAT 2 Art Festival Management Group

On the 25th February, the SPLAT 2 Management Group visited Jephson Gardens, along with 2 other schools to work together and plan the festival ready for July 13th.

Firstly, we took part in a few quick warm up activities around the park, then we created maps in pairs, plotting where we believed to be the best places for each aspect of the festival.

Next we split off into two different groups: marketing and programming. The marketing team took a walk around the grounds and discussed ideas of how we would attract guests to the festival and other ways of promoting the fun and bubbly onsite activities.

Meanwhile, the programming team marked out the event areas in the park with pegs, measuring tapes and mallets e.g. the food vans' area, the two marquees and even the toilets! We also walked around the park and thought where the picnic area and outside theatre might be.

After lunch, we discussed our budget and how we will fund the events and advertising and make the festival bright and inviting as possible. So far, we have had a great time planning the events of SPLAT 2 and look forward to upcoming meetings. By CTCN Reporters and Splat 2 Management Committee members, Isaac and Annabel

Early Years' Garden Renovation

When the young, eager students of Early Years came back from their holidays, they were greeted by several new and exciting features in their outdoor area:

- New decking, a wicker house and urban sound machine!
- A role-play Chinese restaurant

The children are enjoying their new activities in the beautiful sunshine!

Football Match

On the 28th of March, the football team came up against Leek Wootton, a formidable opponent. They were excited for the challenge and couldn't wait to get on the pitch.

Everyone was apprehensive and nervous, but it was a great chance for the team to prove their worth and, if they'd done their homework right, maybe pull off a win.

They remembered to work as a team and to use their intuition. They did their best and the final score was 7-7. What an exciting match!

Sports Ambassadors at Campion

On the 5th of February, Tilly, Brooke, Daniel C, and Hugo, who are Sports Ambassadors, went to Campion to learn about how to make sports fun and safe. To help them, they used a clever mnemonic, the word SMILES which stands for Safe, Maximum Participation, Inclusive, Learning, Enjoyment and Success.

The Sports Ambassadors had to invent a game only using six cones! They also participated in a series of games and activities such as table cricket. Another activity they tried, was to come up with one minute speeches on how they have helped out with sports at their own schools. Finally they made up their own personal best games to try at home or school. Their game was called Stump Run. Hopefully they'll get to demonstrate it to Clapham soon! The Ambassadors had an amazing day and best of all, got active! By CTCN Reporters Ami and Tilly
