

Heads Up

I hope everyone has had a relaxing break and a chance to recharge ready for another action packed half term. We've been busy from the start, with indoor athletics competitions at Campion for Years 5 and 6, as well as our inclusive athletics team from Years 3 and 4. You can read all about the events overleaf. We had a visit from Stephanie Clarkson, our Reading Patron on Tuesday and on Thursday, Year 5 took part in Space Camp, sleeping overnight at school in space pods and enjoying an indoor planetarium experience as well as star gazing outside!

Next week it's anti bullying week, our Bedtime Story Event and Children in Need (wear your PE kit and bring in £1—more information overleaf from our CTCN reporters).

Humans of Leamington

Humans of Leamington is a series of photographic portraits of people who live and work in Leamington Spa. The portraits, in the style of the photographer Diane Arbus, unpick and explore the themes of self-identity and self-expression.

The series a series of 30 portraits of local creatives, features online (<https://www.warwickdc.gov.uk/royalpumprooms/info/24/exhibitions/9/humansofleamington>) and in and around Leamington Spa's Old Town and Town Centre until December 2019.

Bo from Year 3 is part of the exhibition! Here's what is written about her:

'Bo loves painting, especially using colours to splatter a random effect! Her family are all creative too. Her brother won a school competition to design a logo for their dedicated art space, the 'Mess'. Bo has developed her skills at Clapham Terrace School, through weekly art and design technology classes. Bo is also on the school's Art Committee and hopes to join the SPLAT! Festival Management Group to help plan the next community based festival in Jephson Gardens.'

PSQM Outreach Award

We're delighted that Clapham Terrace has recently been awarded the Primary Science Quality Mark at Outreach Level (one stage beyond Gold!). This is a significant achievement (only 13 schools in the country achieved this level) and it demonstrates our commitment and expertise in science teaching and leadership. Our children engage with fantastic science learning both inside and outside the classroom and lead other schools in the local community. Thank you to Mrs Hothi in particular, for coordinating our application and securing this wonderful achievement.

Visit from our Patron of Reading

Steph Clarkson, our Patron of Reading, visited school on Tuesday. After an assembly on reading genres which tied in very nicely with our reading for pleasure bookmark scheme, she worked with our Reading Ambassadors to devise suggested reading lists to match our bookmark genres. Classes then voted for their favourite books. She finished the day with a workshop on journalism for Year 2 and then she read them their class novel.

Sports Hall Athletics

On Monday morning, selected children from Years 5 & 6 represented Clapham Terrace at Champion School in a sports hall athletics competition. The children did very well, as it was a tough competition. They came second out of 7 schools which means we are in the FINALS! They will be competing against Brookhurst (the winners) and two others who came 3rd and 4th are going to compete in a small school finals competition. "This was so much fun to compete in," said Sophia, from Year 5.

In the afternoon our inclusive team from Years 3 to 6, enjoyed a mix of agility, with javelin, speed bounce, chest pushes and step ups.

The Big Morning Move

Our Children in Need event is very special this year. We will be doing a morning exercise, following Joe Wicks (the body coach) on a big screen. This will last for 30 to 45 minutes.

Be sure to bring in one pound for fundraising, and remember to wear your PE kit since we will be having an active start to the morning.

The whole school will be participating in this interesting event so make sure you're ready for it as JLT have organised it specially! By CTCN reporters, Rosie and Shreeya
