

Even though we've had a short week, we've still managed to enjoy a huge range of curriculum activities. We also had our class photographs taken and details of how to purchase these will be available from Andrew Craner Photography shortly.

Subject leaders have been observing the learning in humanities, science and art this week. They have all been hugely impressed with the children's engagement, motivation and the continual progression of their vocabulary, knowledge and skills.

We are still ensuring all our COVID safety measures remain rigorous and we evaluate our risk assessments weekly. We have taken the decision to bring back tray service in the hall for dinners, rather than continuing with the hotboxes. This will ensure the children receive a wider range of nutritious meals. All other safety measures remain the same at this stage. We are waiting for further guidance which will enable us to plan towards opening up school to parents as we enter our last half term. Thank you for being so compliant with the wearing of masks on the school premises and with your rigorous approach keeping children off when they are unwell.

Next week we're looking forward to the Great Clapham Run!

Debating

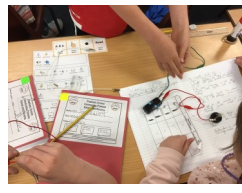

This week, Year 3 enjoyed an afternoon of debate on their topic World War One. One of the questions they discussed was whether Britain should have gone to war. Being able to express a viewpoint clearly and concisely and to listen to the other side of the argument before making a decision on a subject is an important skill.

Year 6 are also honing their debating skills in preparation for debating club with Mrs Ashcroft next week!

Science in Year 4

Year 4 had an exciting morning investigating electrical circuits. They fixed incomplete circuits and looked at how switches work and how they can make their own. It was an illuminating lesson!

Marvellous Music in Year 1

Year 1's music club on a Thursday after school got off to a cracking start last week. The children enjoyed playing a variety of instruments. Shambhavi said, "I enjoyed using the percussion instruments." Next week we're going to learn to sing in a round.

Football

Year 5 and 6 football club bubble, played their first friendly match of the season. A fantastic positive atmosphere and a first ever match for many of our Year 5 children. Well done everyone!

Early Years Update

Early Years are growing sunflowers for their garden! How tall do you think they'll grow? Taller than the teachers we think!

We're also busy making maps for our topic Our Local Area and using our counting skills to buy books in our new Clapham Bookshop role play area.
