

We've reached the end of our final full week in school. It's been quite a year, with many challenges thrown at us. I would like to thank you wholeheartedly for your support through this time. It hasn't been easy for any of us as we've navigated our way through, but what's important is our children have enjoyed a wide range of experiences, even if some have had to be adapted! We feel that they have enjoyed their time in school this year and have made lots of progress in many areas of their learning.

We've enjoyed the Oscars this week; it was lovely to celebrate with the children. It wasn't quite as we had wished for, but I do hope that enjoy seeing your child's class receive their certificates and awards via the links that we will be sharing with you shortly.

Next week, we've got a busy three days. The majority of children will bring their books home; some books we are having to keep as our Ofsted inspection is imminent and we have a series of moderation exercises to complete with other schools. If we keep your child's books, it will only be for a short period of time, then they can come home.

We have rather a lot of lost property to return to its rightful owners; it will be out on the playground next week. PE kits will also be coming home on Monday. Please you bring a plastic bag in on Tuesday for any books, artwork etc. that will coming home.

On Tuesday, it's our Summer Fun Day, which has been meticulously planned to ensure the children get a fantastic experience in their bubbles. The weather is looking promising! Please remember to bring in your home learning for judging. Tickets for the summer hamper raffle will be on sale until Tuesday morning and the grand draw for each class will take place during the day.

Next Wednesday, Year 6 are finishing early, but the rest of us will finish at the normal time. We will send out more communication next week about our return to school in September.

Early Years Update

Early Years have been growing sunflowers and measuring their growth. They are recording their results in order of height.

They have been writing their own Percy the Park Keeper Stories and we are sure that Nick Butterworth would enjoy reading them as much as we have!

Well-being Ambassador Celebration

On Monday night, our Well-being Ambassadors celebrated their achievements and leadership in sport over the last year. Laura, Riley, Arlo and Vidhi from Year 5 made pizza and then turned in to a celebratory Zoom with their fellow ambassadors from Year 6 and others schools in the Central Warwickshire School Sport group.
