

We end our first month in school with some fantastic news to share with you. Two weeks ago, we went through a rigorous assessment day in an attempt to secure the Inclusion Quality Mark (IQM). We first achieved this award in 2017 and the recent visit was a re-assessment against 8 elements, covering Teaching, Learning and Assessment, Leadership and Management, Curriculum, Behaviour and Attitudes, Parents and Carers and the Local Community. We are delighted to announce that we have secured the award at the highest level and have been recommended to become a centre of excellence for inclusive education. The whole report is available on our website and it's worth a read. Here are some of the highlights:

Children are encouraged to gain independence and to develop a life long love of learning, so they become curious and independent learners with high aspirations, whatever their backgrounds.

Parents have confidence in the school and school leaders that their pupils will be nurtured, supported and enabled to grow and develop.

A huge thank you to Mrs Clarkson for gathering and presenting the evidence and to all our staff, as it is clear from the report that inclusion is at the heart of the school on every level, regardless of job role. Thanks also to you as parents and carers, as the assessor was overwhelmed by the feedback she received from the parents to whom she spoke. Thank you so much for your partnership and level of trust—this also comes across clearly in the report. Finally, thank you to our children; as always, they were superb ambassadors. Listening to them talk to the assessor about how proud they feel about their school made me realise yet again how privileged we are to be their teachers.

Next week Year 6 are on their residential in Weymouth, artist Lynne Gougeon is working with Year 3 and 5 on a panel painting for the Olympic Room, Early Years have an Autumn Walk and Year 2 have their open session. And to top it off, we have the fantastic Ricky in for dance with all the children.

Unbelievable Ukulele

Year 4 are learning to play the ukulele! Mrs James, from Warwickshire Music, comes in every Wednesday to teach the children. This week, they learned to strum and use frets including the c chord. They are learning different pieces every week and thoroughly enjoying their lessons.

Save the date:
Thursday 21st October

The HSA are busy planning a spectacular early evening Halloween event for our families to enjoy—more information to follow!

School Library Visits

Our school library has now re-opened for all classes to borrow a book. There is a wonderful range of books to choose from. Genres include: classic fiction, modern fiction, fantasy, mystery, biographies, auto-biographies and informative texts. Every other week, you can select a book to take home, read and enjoy! Spelling Shed

Spelling Shed is a fun and educational game. You can play with other people or just on your own, and there are spelling games as well as your class spellings which get refreshed every week. You can play at different depths - easy, medium, hard and extreme. In celebration assemblies on Fridays, there are Spelling Shed awards for the children who have practised their spellings the most throughout the week.
